This map shows the electoral votes given to each of three candidates in the presidential election of 1912. The Republican vote was divided between Theodore Roosevelt, who ran on the ticket of his own party, and William Howard Taft, the incumbent president.

READING FOCUS:
Who won the election, according to this map?

---

Analysis Questions:
1. In which regions was Roosevelt the strongest?
2. How many electoral votes did Wilson win in California?

Answers:
1. North and West
2. two